Information from third parties

We are authorized to request and obtain information from third parties as well, e.g. from our group member companies or CreditInfo Bureau, both positive as well as negative information stored in their electronic databases, also from that of LEPL State Service Development Agency. This is carried out pursuant to the Privacy Law of Georgia, based on your prior approval, if necessary.

Who we share your personal information with

We may have to share your personal data in the cases defined by the law of Georgia or with other companies, which are supposed to provide you with the product or service chosen by you, e.g.

- If you have a debit, credit or charge card with us, we will share transaction details with companies which help us provide this service (such as Visa and Mastercard);
- If you apply for insurance through us, we may pass your personal or business details to the insurance company, and onto any reinsurers;
- If you make an insurance claim, the information supplied by you to us or the insurer may be put on a register of claims. This information will be shared with other insurers.
- If you have a secured loan or mortgage with us, we may share the information with other creditors who also are the mortgage-holders.

We may also share your personal information if the structure of the Bank changes in the future:

- We may choose to sell, transfer, or merge parts of our business, or assets.
- If any of the above discussed processes occur, we may share your data with other parties. However, before sharing such information, the mentioned parties shall mandatorily agree to keep your data safe and confidential.
- If our group structure changes, other parties may use your data in the manner and within the frames as specified in this notification and regulated by the Law.

How we use your information to make automated decisions

For making automated decisions, we sometimes use the personal data we have, or are allowed to collect from other entities based on the legislation or under the contract signed with you. This helps us ensure that our decisions are quick, fair and efficient. These automated decisions can affect the quality of products and services offered by us now or to be offered in the future.

Here are the types of automated decision we make:

Pricing

We may decide on the price of some products and services based on the information available to us.

Tailoring products and services to customers' needs

We assign our clients to relevant groups which we call customer segments. We use these groups to study our customers' needs and based on what we learn, make decisions that will be useful and favorable for you. This helps us to design products and services for different customer segments and to manage our relationships with them.

Detecting fraud

We use your personal information to help decide if your accounts can be used for fraud or money-laundering. We may detect that an account is being used in a wrongful way. If we identify the risk of fraud, we reserve the right to suspend transactions of doubtful accounts for your security or refuse access to them/deny a respective service.

Opening accounts

When you open an account with us, we check that the product or service is relevant for you, based on the information available to us. We also check that you or your business meets the conditions needed to open the account.

Approving Credit

We use a system to decide whether to approve or not your credit application, whether for a loan or a credit card. This is called credit scoring. It uses past data to predict how you are likely to act while paying back the credit.

Credit scoring uses data from three sources:

- Your application form
- Credit reference agencies
- Data available to us.

Credit Info Georgia (hereinafter "The Credit Reference Agency")

When you apply for a product or a service, we check your credit data and can contact a Credit Reference Agency.

If you are our client, we can use the databases of the Credit reference Agency to facilitate the approval of the credit product you have applied for.

We can exchange the following data with the Credit Reference Agency:

- Your name, address, date of birth
- Our credit application
- Details of any shared credits
- Financial situation and history

- Public information from such sources as the Trade Registry, Public Registry, etc.

We will use the information to:

- Make sure that you can service your credit liability
- Verify the information you provided
- Help identify and prevent financial fraud
- Control your credit liabilities

We will share your personal information with the Credit Reference Agency during the period you will be using our services. These data include information about closed and overdue loans. If you are a borrower, we will also share information on how you make payments – fully and in due time or with a delay. The Credit Reference Agency can share this information with other credit institutions which are interested in your credit status. We will also let the Credit Reference Agency know if you have fully settled your liability. For more information about the Credit Reference Agency, please visit www.creditinto.ge.

We reserve the right to allow law enforcement agencies to access your personal information in cases strictly defined by the law. This is to support their duty to detect, investigate and prevent crime.

If you choose not to share your personal information with us, it may delay or prevent us from meeting our obligations towards you, including performance of services to run your accounts or implementation of relevant procedures.

Marketing

We may use your personal information to tell you about relevant products and offers.

We gather your personal information from what you share with us and what we collect from the sources available to us when you use our services.

We study your data to form a view on what you may want or need, or what may be of interest to you. This is how we decide which products, services and offers may be relevant for you.

We can only use your personal information to send you marketing messages if we have either your consent or a legitimate interest. We promise that our activities will not be unfair, incorrect or running counter your interests.

You can ask us to stop sending you marketing messages by contacting us at any time. We respect your wishes and will stop using your data for marketing purposes as soon as we receive your message.

Your security is important to us. Therefore, you will continue to receive statements regarding the changes in the facilities proposed to you and in terms of service.

How long we keep personal data

We keep your personal data throughout the whole term of service provided to you and for 15 years from the completion of the service for the following reasons:

- To respond to any questions and complaints
- To show that we treated you fairly
- To maintain records according to the regulations that apply to us

We may keep your personal information for over 15 years if we cannot delete it for legal or regulatory reasons.

If any information kept with us is inaccurate or incomplete, please contact us to check and correct the errors.

You have the right to object to our use of your personal information, or to ask us to delete, remove, or stop using your personal information if we do not have legitimate grounds to keep it.

Please contact us if you do not wish that your data be used by us or if you have questions or want to delete or restrict the use of your data.
